As we begin this 4th quarter and enter into the final weeks of Lent, may we take time to find some space where we can pause and reflect on the love God holds for each of us. Though the season of Lent focuses on repentance, it's also good that we remember God's love is unearned. So while we are committed to repenting of the things that take us away from God's love and presence in our lives, we also remember that God is all forgiving. God's love for all of us is unconditional; which is a great model and reminder for each of us in our relations with those people we encounter each day, to love others as God has loved us.

May God bless our school community abundantly these last weeks of Lent

Yours in Service,

Blane M. Collison
